

PUBLIC LECTURE
“CONFUCIANISM AND CHRISTIANITY”
PRESENTED BY: MEL STEWART, PEKING UNIVERSITY

Confucius is China's best known philosopher, and his teachings undergird the societies of East Asia. What are the teachings of Confucius, and are they similar to the moral and religious codes that have guided the West historically? What are the parallels and divergences between traditional Christian teaching and those of Confucius?

Mel Stewart, a Templeton visiting professor at Beijing University, will engage these topics and more at this public lecture.
